TWO MORE PARTS OF BODY OF MAN FOUND IN RIVER

Sterling Police Secure
Another Arm and Leg
Sunday, Today

Find of two more parts of a man's body—the right arm Sunday morning and the right leg this morning—on the Illinois Utilities Company's dam at the foot of Eleventh avenue in Sterling has spurred the officials of that city to further search for the rest of the body and to attempt to reach a solution of the mystery.

Chief of Police Curtis G. Bucher of Sterling announced Sunday night that he had obtained a thumb print from the left hand, which was found Friday afternoon, and that it will be sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington in the hope that it may furnish some clue.

Attempts to uncover other clues to the identity of the apparently murdered man proved unsuccessful today, Chief Bucher said.

Fail to Decipher Initials

A Sterling jeweler was unable to decipher the worn initials of the size 14 signet ring found on the third finger of the hand. Chief Bucher said the jeweler described as "unusual" the fact that the ring was 14 karat gold. Most men's rings to ten karat, Bucher was told.

Two Sterling officers, Ed Odha and Barney Frysinger continued search of the river today for additional parts of the body. Authorities said no water has run over the dam at Sterling since the first of the year, leading officials to believe the limbs were placed in the river somewhere between Dixon and Sterling.

Dr. C. M. Frye, Whiteside county coroner, said the limbs found Friday had not been in the water more than three or four days when they were discovered in the racks of the hydro-electric plant.

Victim Not Very Tall
Following measurements of the arm and leg, Chief Bucher said the man "was not very tall and probably weighed between 175 and 200 pounds."

Authorities of surrounding towns today reported they had no information concerning missing persons from their cities. No one reported to him today concerning missing relatives or friends, Chief Bucher said.

Bucher reported it was impossible to take more than the thumbprints of the hand. The thumb, he said, bore old scars.

Prosecution Ends Presentation of Its Case Against Mark

Plymouth, Ind., May 13—(AP)—The prosecution completed presentation of its direct evidence in the dynamite plot trial of John A. Marks, Michigan City labor leader, shortly before noon today.

Marks, the assistant business agent of the Michigan City local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL), is charged specifically with conspiracy to commit a felony in the dynamiting of Indiana and Michigan Electric Company towers.

Parrish Freeman of Joliet, Ill., who have admitted participation in the dynamiting alleged to have been instigated by Marks, was recalled by the state for testimony concerning the alleged attack on William Blaney of Buchanan, Mich., by Marks and an associate, James Muckway of Michigan City.

Blaney followed Freeman on the stand and told of being called from his home the night of Sept. 13, 1938, and of being beaten by two men who fled in an automobile. He identified Muckway, brought into the court room by Sheriff Harvey Phillips, as one of his assailants.

Uruguay Calls For American Conference

Montevideo, Uruguay, May 13—(AP)—With Argentina calling for the Americas to adopt a "non-belligerent" attitude toward the European war, Uruguay was reported today to have proposed a new conference to decide the future steps of the 21 American republics now pledged to strict neutrality.

President Alfredo Baldomir and Foreign Minister Alberto Guani were said to have dispatched a telegram to President August S. Boyd of Panama urgently requesting a meeting of the 21 republics "in view of the gravity of the situation."

President Boyd was told that Uruguay "received with deep emotion the news of the invasions" of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The fire department at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon extinguished a fire at the city hall after members of the police department complained of smoke in the hallways and rooms. Rubbish, which had collected in the alleyways along the west side of the city hall building, had been ignited by a cigarette stub and started burning. The flames were extinguished without damage to the building. Saturday afternoon about 4:45 the department was called to the H. Distin home, 1219 Ninth street, where a fire started by a defective chimney, was discovered. The damage, which was slight, was covered by insurance.

Body of Olivet Academy Coed Found in State Park

Marshall, Ind., May 13—(AP)—Hunt for Mary Sprague, 15, of Carbondale, Ill., has ended eight days after her disappearance with a boy companion while on an outing at Turkey Run state park with other members of the sophomore class of Olivet, Ill., Academy.

Led by Elmer Gerrard of West Union, searchers in a boat found the girl's body yesterday in driftwood in Sugar creek five miles west of the park. The body of T. W. Willingham Jr., 15, of Joliet, Ill., was found in the park, on a sandbar in the stream, Thursday.

The location of his body caused searchers to believe the couple had fallen into the creek from a 15-foot high promontory. They had been hunted by park employees, state police, CCC youths and volunteers since they disappeared the afternoon of May 4.

Coroner B. H. Branson said he would withhold a verdict pending further investigation.

President Soon to Urge Congress to Appropriate More Money for Defense

Washington, May 13—(AP)—President Roosevelt plans to send to Congress this week a recommendation for more money for national defense.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said the President at this time had no specific amount in mind, but would decide on some sum as a result of conferences with his advisers on defense. One such conference, with war and treasury department officials, was scheduled today.

(Editor's note—Paul Mallon in his "News Behind the News" on page 4 of today's Telegraph, writes of the "appalling weakness" that is apparent "all along the line" in the status of the national defense.)

Already pending before Congress are requests for upwards of $2,000,000,000 for defense requirements in the year starting July 1. There has been conjecture that Roosevelt, in view of needs em-

SENATE DEBATES SCHEME AGAINST INDEPENDENT CAA

May Be Last Controversial Legislation This Session

Washington, May 13—(AP)—Opposing senate forces issued contradictory claims of victory today in the battle over reorganizing the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), leading the fight to block the president's plan to transfer the independent agency to the commerce department, told reporters that "we have the votes" to disapprove it.

Administration lieutenants, headed by Senator Byrnes (D-SC), contended that they held an eight-vote margin in favor of the transfer. Some impartial senators described the outcome as a toss-up.

The subject was brought before the senate under parliamentary rules which will make possible a final vote tomorrow afternoon.

The house already has rejected the reorganization plan. Unless the senate also disapproves, however, it will go into effect automatically. The principal phase of the controversy has involved proposed abolition of the air safety board, whose duties would be taken over by the present five-man Civil Aeronautics Board.

The reorganization measure may be one of the final controversies to come before the senate at this session, which administration leaders hope to end early in June. In some quarters, however, there are demands that congress remain here because of the European war or recess for the national political conventions and meet again in August.

Last Money Bill

The last appropriation bill will be started through the house on Thursday. It is the president's proposal to spend $975,000,000 for relief in the fiscal year beginning July 1. Argument has centered less on the amount than on Roosevelt's request that all the money be made available for spending in eight months, if necessary.

The senate heard demands for army expansion as soon as it convened after a week-end recess.

Sensors Lodge (R-Mass), Connally (D-Tex) and Lee (D-Okl.) all urged that the army be increased to a size sufficient to protect the entire western hemisphere.

In the house, Rep. Bulwinkle (D-NC) proposed legislation to permit the allied nations to buy on credit in this country all goods except "arms, ammunition and implements of war," specifically banned in neutrality proclamations. It would alter those portions of the neutrality law and the Johnson act which forbid credits in this country to belligerents or to any nation in default to the United States.

But Rep. Fish (R-NY) told the house that "the only thanks we received for our huge loans to our former allies was to be called Uncle Shylock and to have all the nations repudiate these war loans except little honest Finland."

Shirley Temple's Retirement from Films Announced

Hollywood, May 13—(AP)—Shirley Temple—with her first million, and more, in the bank—is "retiring" at the ripe old age of 11.

The curly-haired child sensation, who ruled the nation's box offices from 1935 through 1938, will sever connections with 20th Century-Fox studio when her 24th and latest film, "Young People" is released. It was finished last week. Announcement that her seven-year stay at the studio would end was made by her mother, Mrs. George Temple, and 20th's president, Joseph M. Schenck.

Both agreed the parting was amicable. Mrs. Temple said she was concerned because stories "to suit the new growing-up phase in Shirley's life" had not been found. She added that she felt her daughter was entitled to "those normal, natural benefits that may be derived from mingling and competing with a large number of other children."

From the studio's viewpoint, Shirley had simply ceased to be the attraction she was in 1935, when as a dimpled little six-year-old she captivated film goers the world over.

Her picture earnings, plus selected commercial tieups, have never been made public but a studio spokesman estimated recently that her films had returned $20,000,000 to 20th. Her earnings have been carefully invested by her father, a former banker.

One Million Pike Placed in River During Last Week

District Conservation Inspector Charles Myers of Oregon stated today that a consignment of trout fingerlings will be placed in Seven Mile branch creek, north of Dixon, at an early date. Postmaster George Fruin of the Dixon Conservation club forwarded a requisition for additional trout fingerlings to the conservation department offices at Springfield several days ago. Director Lynch has honored the request and notified Myers today that the fingerlings would be forwarded soon.

About three years ago the conservation department selected Seven Mile branch for an experimental stream and several hundred trout fingerlings were placed in the waters at the bridge east of Lowell park. The experiment proved quite successful and at present there is some agitation to close the stream until it can be well stocked with trout. There is also a possibility that some of the trout fingerlings will be placed in Franklin creek.

Inspector Myers also announced the placing of one million wall-eyed pike fingerlings in Rock river last week. The small fish were hauled from the Spring Grove hatchery to Oregon, Dixon and Sterling where conservation department employees placed them in the water. At Dixon the fish were released below the dam, the truck transporting the small fish stopping on the east parking space while the consignment for this city was removed from the tanks and placed in the river.

ALLIED TROOPS FIND SELVES IN HURRICANE'S WAY

AP Writer With British Expeditionary Force
Sends Message

By DREW MIDDLETON

With the British Expeditionary Force in Belgium May 12—(Delayed)—(AP)—Allied troops, ready for a storm found themselves in the path of a hurricane today.

As tanks and armored cars of the British threw their first fire into the advancing Germans, there was no doubt that the first great battle of this war had begun.

Informed sources told me the Germans had two armored divisions in the van of the attack; synchronized with a terrific bombing.

The hurricane rides on the wings of the German air force.

Despite serious losses in the Netherlands, Belgium and France placed by some in the neighborhood of 200 planes—the German fliers still are hammering at their objectives.

A new front was established by landings of German parachute troops behind the allied lines.

As I write, this dingy hotel shakes with thuds of bombs falling outside the town and with the deep "twung twung" of anti-aircraft batteries.

I have been on the continent just 36 hours, but I have heard sirens scream the "alerte" 11 times, seen six nazi bombers methodically lay their eggs, watched two fall burning to earth and seen scars of their operations.

A railway which Germans bombed at dawn was uncut. A French observer counted 18 craters, but said proudly, "they are hurried, those devils, look—"

Bombs Missed Train

Sure enough, there was a train chugging steadily along the tracks.

As I traveled nearly 300 miles over this little nation—just a bit smaller than the state of Maryland—I saw grim evidence of what total war means.

There was two-way traffic on the roads, moving toward the distant sound of guns where British men, materials and munitions in trucks widely-spaced to offer unattractive bombing targets.

Moving painfully away from the guns was another army—the army of the homeless and stricken. Refugees went slowly through the thick white dust toward the safety that may lie behind the lines.

The rich ride in cars. The poor rode huddled in trucks, on burdened bicycles or walked.

Their voices haunt you:

"We know nothing. Friday morning there came the explosion. Our windows broke. The little boy across the street—so bright a little boy—is dead. So we left."

"Those Germans. Four years of them we had when I was middle-aged. Now we go. No one can hold them."

Salesman Held in Oregon on Charge Of Alleged Victim

(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon, May 13—Louis Tobias, 60, allegedly a salesman for the Tung Grove Co., dealers in Louisiana land stock, was arrested on Sheriff James A. White of Ogle county, who returned him to Oregon to answer confidence game charges preferred by Miss Katherine Fischer, from who he is said to have obtained $4,000, $500 of it, his commission, in Case Co. bonds. He was questioned today by States Attorney Crowell, and is said to have offered settlement.

John Himes, 23, was arrested here Saturday night on complaint of Winnebago county authorities, who charged that, impersonating himself as a deputy sheriff of that county, has stolen a radio and jacket from an automobile at New Milford.

HEADS GRADUATING CLASS

Urbana, Ill., May 13—(AP)—Milburn G. Slusser of Bement, a student in the college of commerce who had only one grade below "A" during his entire college course, heads the 1940 graduating class at the University of Illinois.

The university announced Slusser's selection as valedictorian and Ellen June Thompson of Peoria as the salutatorian. Miss Thompson, enrolled in the college of liberal arts and sciences, also had only one grade below "A" during her four year career, but Slusser had taken more courses. Each had one "B."

Nazis Suspected of Using 'Nerve Gas' Over Forts

Bern Switzerland May 13—(AP)—

A "nerve gas" which penetrates ordinary gas masks and renders its victims helpless and unable to coordinate their muscles may be the "surprise weapon" which enabled the Germans to capture Fort Eben Emael and thus drive an opening wedge into the Belgian defense lines.

That belief was expressed today by neutral military attaches to Switzerland, through whose hands passes a great deal of the war's military information.

They said a gas of this type had been developed in Germany and studied in other countries in recent months, and that soldiers inhaling it would be overcome by lassitude and would stagger and fall.

(Howard Blakeslee, Associated Press editor, reports that the American Chemical Society at a meeting two years ago suggested that liquid acetyl chloride, if it came in contact with a wound or break in the skin, would make a soldier unconscious for as long as an hour.)

However, says Blakeslee, there were no suggestions as to how the chemical which appears naturally in the human body in extreme small amounts, might be adapted to causing unconsciousness through inhalation.)

The military experts explained that the gas, said to leave no ill after-effects, to be almost impossible to detect but to smell faintly like geraniums, would be effective against the Belgian garrison at Fort Eben Emael because they were equipped only with standard army filter masks.

They added that such a gas undoubtedly would be more effective in this type fort than in the better-ventilated fortifications, such as those in the French Maginot line.

INSPECT FIRE DEPARTMENT

Tom Brooks and Thad Fyfe from the state fire marshal's office at Springfield arrived in Dixon today to remain for several days. They will make a general inspection of fire fighting equipment at the Dixon state hospital and will also give instructions in fire prevention methods. Every building on the state owned property will be inspected by the officers.

Young Bandit Carried His Companion's Body Around in Automobile Two Days

Hillsboro, Ill., May 13—(AP)—Authorities of three counties today were checking the story of Robert Grear, 20, of Nokomis, who told them he carried the body of his 17-year-old companion in an automobile for two days after he was fatally wounded in an attempted burglary.

Sheriff Leo Gilliland and Deputy Ed Marvell said Grear took officers to a well in a country school yard where the partly submerged body of Bernard Nelson, also of Nokomis, was recovered. There was a bullet hole under Nelson's right eye.

Authorities had been searching for Grear and Nelson and had been checking hospitals since Raymond

BULLETIN

London, May 13—(AP)—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland arrived tonight in England.

By The Associated Press
The German blitzkrieg push to the west tonight appeared to be checked, French military spokesmen declared.

Advanced allied motorized and air forces, supporting the Belgian and Dutch armies, were said to have slowed up the nazi steamroller advance through southern Holland and Belgium.

The great "battle of the west" the spokesmen added, has started in its preliminary stages.

Reports from both sides in the fast-developing conflict listed a total of 1,100 planes since the German invasion started May 10. The Germans said they had destroyed 700 allied planes; the allies reported 400 German aircraft put out of action.

Dutch troops fought stubbornly behind their flooded defense lines below the Zuider Zee (MS) today while Belgian, British and French forces battled side by side against sharp new attacks by German motorized invaders in Belgium.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters on the western front reported the capture of the Great Liege fortress citadel in Belgium—on the fourth day of the war. It was here that Kaiser Wilhelm's army was halted a week by a heroic Belgian defense in 1914. The Germans also reported the capture of 18,000 Dutch troops by one German army.

The French high command said the only fort so far seized by the Germans in the Liege zone was Eben Emael.

Britain's new prime minister, Winston Churchill, received a "win the war" mandate by a vote of 381 to 0 in the house of Commons. The conflict in the lowlands, he said, was rapidly approaching "one of the greatest battles in history."

Nazi Tunnel Shattered
French artillery and allied air bombs this afternoon shattered part of the Istein tunnel under Germany's "Gibraltar of the Rhine," disrupting military traffic between Basel, Switzerland, and the German west wall fortifications. An official French communication said the Germans had lost 400 planes since the lowlands campaign began Friday.

Amid the heightening European war fury, President Roosevelt was reported planning to ask congress for more money for national defense—possibly another $500,000,000 above the $2,000,000,000 already requested for defense requirements.

The German high command said a nazi column had "established contact" with parachute troops landed around Rotterdam (JS), Holland.

Far to the north, in the almost forgotten Norwegian campaign, a German attempt to land troops to help the besieged nazi garrison at Narvik was reported a failure. Several German transports were sunk, according to the Norwegian telegraph agency.

Staggering Losses
Reports of staggering losses in the western European "war in the skies" came today in dispatches from Paris and Berlin.

Germany asserted about 700 allied planes had been destroyed in flight or bombed on the ground, while the French said the Germans had lost 400 planes in the first three and one-half days of the nazi invasion of the low countries—making a total of 1,100 put

YANKEES BOUNCE OFF BOTTOM OF LOOP STANDINGS

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees still are to be reckoned with in the American League pennant race.

The way they bounced off the bottom of the standings yesterday to shut out the Boston Red Sox 4-0, was a performance so forceful no skeptic could doubt that here were the real world's champions.

Red Ruffing whipped out that old fast ball and spread six hits smartly, struck out eight and walked only two. His teammates gave him superb support—no errors and two double-plays—to keep Boston from getting a man past second.

The champs punched out their hits in familiar fashion—two runs in the third on an error and three singles, another in the seventh on two doubles, and a final one in the eighth on a double, a single and an error.

This not only ended the jinx that left-handed pitchers had held over them, and an eight-game losing streak, but it also stopped a six-game winning streak for Boston's league leaders and was the first time they had been shutout this season.

Reds Show Stuff, Too

In the National League the Cincinnati Reds proved once again that they, too, have the stuff of champions and are going to be hard to dislodge from first place. They beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-1 and 13-4 in a doubleheader that showed clearly their superiority over the team that many experts expected to take the pennant away from them.

Paul Derringer allowed only four hits in the first game. Then Manager Bill McKechnie shoved Old Jim Turner onto the firing line and the Reds repeated even though the veteran allowed 16 hits.

The double-victory increased the Reds' margin to a full game over Brooklyn even though the Dodgers defeated the Phillies, 5-3, with Fred Fitzsimmons' knuckle-balling getting credit. Fat Freddy had to be rescued when he loaded the bases with two out and one run across in the ninth, but the Dodgers had made sufficient runs beforehand.

man Walter Brown snuffed out a flareup in the eighth for the Giants' fifth straight win.

The Chicago Cubs plastered another defeat on the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5, when Bill Herman hit a three-run homer in the eighth. Dizzy Dean, who supposedly had been relegated to relief roles, started on the mound, gave up a homer in the first inning and was belted out in the second.

It was a rough day for the upper crust in the American League—from the Red Sox down. The Cleveland Indians were thumped, 5-2, by the St. Louis Browns, with Elden Auker rationing nine hits off his submarine ball. The Browns bunched three runs in the last two innings for the winning margin.

The Chicago White Sox tamed the Detroit Tigers, 4-3, in spite of home runs by Pinky Higgins and Dick Bartell, getting three runs in the first inning off Lynn Nelson and Dizzy Trout.

Johnny Babich achieved his fourth victory against one defeat as the Philadelphia Athletics whipped the Washington Senators, 4-2. Babich held the Nats to two hits and no score for seven innings and coasted in, giving four safeties and two runs in the last two frames.

NORTHWESTERN TO PUT TITLE CHANCES ON BLOCK IN GAMES WITH WISCONSIN THIS WEEK

Chicago, May 13. — (AP) — Northwestern, riding along at the head of the Big Ten baseball parade with a six-game winning streak, puts its title chances on the block this week-end in a two game series with Wisconsin's light-hitting crew.

The Wildcats, now leading with six wins in eight contests, complete their pennant bid in the Wisconsin series and another two-game test the following week with Ohio State.

Northwestern took over the top spot the hard way, defeating Iowa twice last Friday and Saturday, 13 to 5 and 4 to 3. Harold Haub, undefeated in the league since 1938, absorbed both losses, breaking his string of nine straight mound triumphs.

The losses shoved Iowa, titleholder in 1938 and 1939, down to third place behind Illinois as well as Northwestern. The Illini has seven and lost three.

Illinois, conqueror of Purdue last week, 21 to 13 and 9 to 4, concludes conference competition this week in a two-game engagement with Indiana at Champaign. If Northwestern should falter, the Illini could ease into the title by sweeping the Hoosier series.

Iowa Is Idle

Iowa, a half game ahead of fourth-place Michigan, is idle in the league until May 31 when the Hawks finish their season with two tilts against Minnesota.

Michigan stayed in the running for honors with 4 to 1 and 5 to 2 victories over Ohio State. Minnesota's pitchers turned in the best work of the week-end, shutting out Wisconsin for 18 innings, 7 to 0 and 1 to 0, Indiana defeated Chicago twice, 3 to 1 and 8 to 0.

In addition to Illinois, Chicago, Purdue, Wisconsin and Indiana

complete their conference schedules this week.

Illinois has the best offensive record for the season so far, having averaged 8.4 runs per game while Chicago, in the basement, has been able to score only 2.3 runs per game. Iowa has the best defense, yielding only 3.4 runs a game and Chicago again is the worst, allowing 8.4 runs.

Granddaughter of Early Dixon Dentist Becomes Bride

MRS. AVERY DOOLITTLE

Highlighting the social events of the spring season in Waukegan was the marriage of Carolyn Hart, granddaughter of the late Dr. J. W. Stevens of Dixon and Avery Doolittle, son of the Leonard Doolittles, Saturday afternoon, April 22, in Our Lady chapel of Christ Episcopal church. Titian-haired Mrs. Doolittle—whose mother, Mrs. Julian Hart, (the former Miss Helen Stevens), is a cousin of Mrs. R. W. Sterling of 221 Dement avenue—is pictured in her exquisite wedding gown of satin and tulle.

Music Festival of Woman's Club Is Well Attended

Nine young soloists who are making rapid progress in the musical world, a Dixon high school faculty member, an accordion band, a boys' choir, and the Dixon high school orchestra combined their concert-giving efforts yesterday afternoon in the Dixon high school auditorium. The occasion was the Dixon Woman's club sixth annual Music Festival—an event well remembered and eagerly anticipated from year to year.

An audience of several hundred persons turned out for this special Mothers' Day tribute. All were enthusiastic in their applause and response throughout the program, which was exceptionally well done, from the opening piano solo, a Godard Mazurka played by Robert Popma, to the choral benediction, "Now the Day Is Over," presented by the tuneful voices of St. Patrick's boys' choir, accompanied by the orchestra.

Other soloists appearing were Eileen Finney, whose clear, young soprano voice was heard in two numbers, "My Johann" and "The Answer"; Jean Smith, pianist, who gave a pleasing interpretation of "Rhapsody No. 3 in C Major"; Lloyd Walters, Jr., again demonstrating his skill with the flute in Bone's "Impromptu Caprice"; Marjorie Hoerner, pianist, giving a brilliant rendition of the familiar "Rustle of Spring"; another pianist, Georgia Lee Davidson, playing Liszt's sparkling "Dance of the Gnomes"; Miss Carolyn Berg-

HOBBY SHOW

Approximately 170 young hobbyists at the Lincoln school will have exhibits in the school's second annual Hobby Show, which will be on display in the school gymnasium on Thursday. Students from kindergarten to eighth grade are participating with exhibits ranging from marble and button collections to scrapbooks, miniature animals and dolls.

The show will be open to the public, especially to students from other buildings, from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. A joint Hobby Show and P-T. A. meeting is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

sted, high school music instructor, whose singing is always a pleasure and who chose for her numbers yesterday, "The Time for Making Songs has Come" and "The Wren", with Lloyd Walter playing a flute obbligato for the second selection; and Marie Haefliger, pianist, who gave a deft reading of the Bach Prelude in C Minor.

It was not the ear alone that was satisfied yesterday afternoon. Miss Marie Worley's accordion band presented a pleasing picture in their snappy white satin blouses, red sashes and dark skirts and trousers. The choir boys, directed by the Rev. Father James J. Burke, were wearing red and white surplices with red ties.

Bud Bradford and Charlotte Mueller demonstrated delightful coordination in their piano duet, "Malaguena." Orville Westgor directed the orchestra group, whose interpretations of the Merry Widow Waltz and the introduction Act Three of Wagner's "Lohengrin," were a highlight of the afternoon's program. Mrs. Dwight Chapman and Miss Bergstedt alternated as accompanists for the soloists.

Baskets of cherry and apple blossoms, arranged by Mrs. J. R. McDaniel, decorated the stage.

Mrs. Burl Leprid planned the program, assisted by her music and radio committee, Mrs. Lyle Melvin, Mrs. Richard Joslyn, Mrs. Carl Santee, Mrs. Crawford Thomas, Miss Bergstedt, Mrs. L. W. Walter, Mrs. I. B. Potter, Mrs. George Styles, and Mrs. Frank Deutsch.

Juniors of Ashton High School Are Hosts to Seniors

Mills-Petrie Memorial gymnasium at Ashton was transformed into a colorful Japanese setting on Saturday evening for the annual Junior-Senior banquet of Ashton high school. Eighty-five guests, including members of the board of education, faculty members and upperclassmen, turned out for the gay event.

Members of the junior class were in charge of the party arrangements, assisted by C. H. O'May, who planned many of the novel decorations. One section of the gymnasium represented a Japanese garden, with grass and straw rugs on the floor. A Japanese pagoda, with its tiny water fall and pool, was the center of attraction during the evening. Japanese lanterns shone down on the scene, with masses of flowers completing the decorative motif. Chop sticks were favors for the banquet-goers.

Women of the Methodist Aid society prepared the banquet, served by sophomore girls, wearing Japanese costumes, with flowers twined in their coiffures. Miss Carol Kersten acted as toastmistress.

The toast program included an address of welcome by Miss Frances Kersten, president of the Junior class; response by Leslie Saunders, Senior mentor; and short talks by Superintendent James C. Bilderbach, Dr. C. R. Root, who is president of the board, and C. H. O'May.

Sixteen students from Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb presented an entertaining program later in the evening, directed by Paul Streit. Their numbers included a scene from "The Show Boat," a comedy sketch, "Pot Boiler," readings, and vocal and instrumental selections. A string trio entertained during the banquet hour.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

"Say, Bill, I notice you railroad men seem to know a lot about farming. How come?"

"Well, it's this way, Joe. In railroading we've got to understand the other fellow's business to give him the service he needs.

"Farm products are a big part of our business. Take cotton, for instance. The Illinois Central hauls more cotton than any other railroad in the world. Naturally, we learn all we can about it. The same is true of live stock, grain, vegetables, fruit and other things you farmers send to market. The more we know about them the better we can serve you."

There is no substitute for experience. The Illinois Central is long experienced in meeting the needs of shippers. This makes for good service.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to

The Good in a Bad Business

The Mexican oil expropriation affair, returning to deadlock after two years of wrangling, may seem discouraging.

But there are encouraging aspects in it.

This thing is going to be settled, and settled in a way that will give substantial justice to both parties. It has taken time. It will take more time.
But when enough time is taken, that in itself augurs eventful justice.

Let us note two things:

First, the United States has resolutely refused to listen to the headhunts that have maintained that the way to settle a controversy between a couple of American oil companies and the Mexican people is to march in with the Marines. Germany seized Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, on far less provocation. But the United States is grimly determined to find a better way.

Second, Mexico has at all times shown willingness to negotiate, and to pay proper indemnifica-tion, as she can, and when it has been properly determined. True, she refuses arbitration, but that is a technique. The responsibility she accepts. Russia did not even do this, as we recall it, when the Czarist government was overthrown, and many other revolutions have completely repudiated without any recourse the obligations of former governments.

So here we have a controversy between two governments, neither of which adopts the viewpoint of past centuries, both of which cling to the forward-looking viewpoint that there is a better way than force.

The controversy has now reached this point:
The oil properties have been seized. No Mexican administration can go back on that—it has become, rightly or wrongly, a point of national honor. The United States concedes the seizure, maintains the companies should be paid. Mexico agrees.

Nobody has ever determined how much should be paid, whether all the potential value of oil beneath the seized lands, or simply the value of the physical investment. Mexico has no money to pay immediately in any event.

One of the two principal expropriated companies is about ready to accept payment in oil. After all, what would it have gotten if there had been no expropriation? Oil.

It is all a question of how much, and when, and how.

Mexico needs more capital, which it surely can not expect to get until this matter is adjusted. The United States needs all-American good-will; the Mexican case, rightly or wrongly, is being used to block it. When both sides to a controversy stand to gain more by settlement than by continued disturbance, reasonable people on both sides will continue to hope for amicable settlement.

Near the End of the New Deal Rope

Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board, who used to think a public debt isn't such a bad thing, is now credited with the suggestion that individual savings be taxed so as to continue the famous spending spree.

It would appear that the New Deal spenders are near the end of their rope when they consider such a program. It is not generally realized, but the federal government now has the power, if Congress assents, to take away everything one possesses. All that is necessary is "due process of law." Under due process of law the government can make what is known as a capital levy and take away houses, personal property and money. Most governments, knowing that this process would anger most citizens and threaten the government's popularity, have resorted to the capital levy only in time of war. But a government bent on sharing the wealth might be expected to do it as a matter of principle.

And if they make paupers out of everybody—what then?

Down Under the Sea in Ships

Five hundred and thirty-seven ships have taken the final plunge down to Davy Jones' locker since the war began.

Swept from the surface of the sea to lie rotting beneath it are 1,813,795 tons of shipping of all nations and the bones of perhaps 5,000 men.

The United States, due to its fortunate position and the policy of keeping our ships out of the war zones, has suffered least. In fact, American shipping to foreign ports has risen sharply since the war to the highest levels of a decade.

The deliberate effort to build up a merchant fleet, well under way before war came, now meets a situation in which most of the world is destroying its ships as fast as it can. Should the war be prolonged, the United States should find its relative positions in the shipping world considerably enhanced. This will add to those post-war responsibilities that are piling up for us whether we will or no.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 12.—Mr. Roosevelt has never been caught napping in the recently widening series of European explosions. He has always expected the worst and it has always happened.

Yet there is evidence, now increasingly plain, that he has not wholly applied his alertness in action to the transition of defense policy required by the turn of affairs since the Norwegian invasion. About that time, the administration received intelligence that Hitler had basked his earlier war strategy and intended to gamble everything on winning this year. Preparations for American defense had been made on the logical assumption of a long war. Appropriations for both army and navy were made at this session of congress on the expectation that we would not need to be ready to defend ourselves for 12 to 18 months.
The accumulation of materials vital for the army and the launching of new naval vessels were projected along that line.
Behind this planning was the natural assumption that the allies would win anyway.

The last three weeks have undermined these basic expectations and somewhat alarmed all officialdom as to the state of our defenses. Not only is the army 18 months behind in the commonest essentials for an initial protective force (see column dated May 6), and the navy a year or more away from reconditioning its ships from deck and on the bottom to withstand the new implements of attack, but the dogging-down of government efforts to accumulate essential strategic war materials further betrays the appalling weakness that is apparent all along the line.

Laissez-Faire methods and con-glomerated red tape are apparent in what has been done on the inside of the accumulation of strategic war materials.
Economists have thought we needed stores of at least $800,000,000 worth of tin, rubber and other essential materials, the source of which is now threatened by the questionable status of the Dutch East Indies and other world trade routes. The Army-Navy Board, with an eye on the budget, asked for $200,000,000 to start. Congress authorized $100-000,000 to be spent over four years at the rate of $25,000,000 per year. Then it appropriated only $10,000,000 for the first year, and now in the second year of this program Roosevelt has asked for $15,000,000, getting $12,500,000, of which only $3-000,000 will be available before July 1.

Thus what started out as an $800,000,000 defense project has borne less than $12,000,000 of fruit in the first two years of its operation. Prospects of future fruit are non-existent unless someone gets busy.

The program itself did not spring from direct administration initiative but evolved indirectly when Senator Miller of Arkansas introduced a bill two years ago proposing to buy domestic man-ganese at a price which would have amounted to double the world price. When executive departments objected congress asked them to write their own strategic materials bill, and the present law was the result. But in passing it congress imposed restrictions against buying abroad in order to favor American producers, restrictions which the treasury has interpreted as requiring about a 25 per cent bonus in some instances to domestic manufacturers.

This has led the program into some amazing blind labyrinths.
A woman, for one example, won her bid to produce chrome ore in Alaska many months ago, but both the chrome and the woman have been missing ever since. In another case the navy awarded a contract to a low-bidding individual for chrome ore to be delivered in 6 months but 18 months expired without any deliveries.

A Dutch mission came here secretly from the East Indies some time back with the proposal to furnish all the tin the United States could take. The suggested deal involved American payment in gold to be left on deposit here for Dutch purchases. This deal could have been completed any time up until the Germans moved into Holland, but various legal considerations held it up.

The administration has been acting hurriedly to offer some remedy. Involved government departments held a secret meeting last Wednesday at which several plans were discussed. The remedy is likely to take the line

TRIANGULAR MEET HERE TOMORROW

The Dixon Dukes have had a few changes in the week's track schedule, and according to the latest information from Coach A. C. Bowers tomorrow's meet here will be a triangular affair with Rock Falls and Mt. Morris. Tuesday's meet was to have been a dual affair between Rock Falls and Dixon and the Dukes were to have met Mt. Morris and Rochelle here on Wednesday. However, Rochelle goes to Mendota Wednesday and asked to be released from Tuesday's meet on the offer to come here next season for a night event. Mt. Morris has been invited to move up one day to make the Rock Falls engagement a three-way event. And that's that.

SOFTBALL DOINGS

The managers and sponsors of the Dixon softball teams will meet for their second banquet of the season Thursday night at the Dixon hotel at 7 o'clock where further plans for the May 20 opening will be discussed. At the first meeting of the managers it was decided that all teams shall be limited to 15 players and final lists must be turned in at Thursday night's shindig. Managers will have until June 16 for trading. The prospects for a girl's team remain in doubt and final action is expected soon.

MILLER IS PRAISED

Henry J. McCormick, Wisconsin State Journal sports editor at Madison, writes of the recent climax to the spring football game at the University: "Probably the outstanding player on the field was blond Dick Embick, right guard and captain on the 'Navy' team, but the back who caught most of the spectators' eyes was big Don Miller (of Dixon), a sophomore right halfback. Miller was a lad of promise last fall in his first year on the Badger varsity, but he never quite found himself. In Saturday's game he hit like a ton of brick, and he gauged his openings accurately. On one occasion he broke loose for 50 yards, the longest run of the day, and he failed to make it a touchdown only because Harold Rooney, the former Madison East star, overhauled him from behind." The game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

BRILLIANT BOWLING

Ed Worley, Dixon bowler, led the Beloit Mungers Tydols to 12th place in the Hank Marino's open to the world tournament in Milwaukee Saturday night. Worley rolled games of 198-235-234 for a series of 667. Other scores of the quintet were C. Crist 550; T. Therkelson 537; W. Munger 554; C. Reisinger 553. The team finished games of 857-982-1022 for the big count of 2861. Worley and Reisinger rolled 1005 in the doubles and Worley counted 200-196-192 for 588 to place in the singles.

FILL IN THE GAPS, BOYS

According to Manager Pete Phalen who is helping to pilot the Junior American Legion baseball team this season, the club is still short some players. "We need," Pete says, "some pitchers, catchers, outfielders and infielders." Which just about covers everything—unless he means his batters are satisfactory. The Junior American Legion team has grown to be one of the best sports projects of the city and it deserves the support of all who follow under 17 years of age. As a parting shot at y. p. Pete adds, "I'd like a catcher like Al Todd." The team held its regular practice session at Reynolds Field yesterday afternoon.

TENNIS MEETING

Action in launching the city tennis season has been delayed, partly due to the chilly weather. But now that the mercury is getting to the point where your racket won't get covered with frost it's high time we all get together for an outline of the season activities. First of all, there will be a meeting of all interested players at the Telegraph offices Wednesday night at 7:30. Can you be there?

TICKET-SELLING CAMPAIGN

With the assured co-operation of the Dixon high school student body for selling season tickets to the night football games here next fall, Chairman Paul Potts and his committee are planning an early campaign. Now that the lighted athletic field is no longer a dream, it becomes the duty of all local fans to pledge their support of the project by purchasing the season tickets. The pastebards will probably go on sale sometime this summer.

WEST BROOKLYN TROUNCED

West Brooklyn high school's baseball team suffered a stinging defeat at the hands of Malta last Thursday afternoon, 16 to 3. Berg, a new pitcher for the Malta visitors, made his debut and after a bad first inning he settled down to permit West Brooklyn a total of six hits for the game. G. Gehant led the hurling for the losers and allowed 17 hits.

OFF THE SPINDLE

Rochelle high schools golf and tennis teams counted a one-sided golf victory over Belvidere Friday, 16 to 2. In the golf match the Hubs counted a 3 to 2 triumph. The management of the Ogile county fair is planning a program of trotting and pacing races for Thursday, July 4. According to Coach Noel Mosher, whose Walnut track team is one of the four favorites to cop the Bureau county title in the track meet at Princeton tomorrow night, 35 points should win the meet due to the strong competition in almost every event. Mosher's club won the Little Eight meet recently with 61 points.

PRACTICE GAME TONIGHT

Hi Emmert's Reynolds wire softball team has a practice game with the State Hospital team tonight at the colony diamond at 5:45 p. m.

HARDBALL TEAM POSSIBILITIES

After giving up the idea of forming a hardball league for the younger players in town, the project afoot at present is to congregate a group of former Junior American Legion players and others too old for the Junior Legion team and too young for the Knacks. The group has several sponsorships in mind and may break into action any day now. Among the players who are likely to comprise the team are Leland (Butch) Shoaf, a handy little pitcher and outfielder; Bill Shultz, also a capable moulder and outfielder and other crackerjacks such as Walters, Williams and Kelchner.

CHALLENGE FROM MT. MORRIS

Manager Jack Harsh of Mt. Morris is scouting around for some baseball competition (hardball) and would welcome any acceptance to his challenge. He is reported to have organized a fast club this season. Address him at 308 S. Wesley avenue in Mt. Morris.

GONE WITH THE WIND

They shot their arrows into the air; they fell to earth they knew not where. That was the plight of the Dixon archery club yesterday afternoon when a stiff wind sent the feathered missiles on detours toward the target. The members held their regular outdoor shooting event at the Crawford range and those who had the wind to blame for any low scores they may have counted were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Anderson, Bill Thompson, Jean Thompson, Betty Keller and Ken Abbott.

TO CHAMPAIGN THURSDAY

Coach A. C. Bowers will take Howard Mantsch, Albert Hoeman, Bill Moser, Bob McNamera and Alan Wieman to Champaign Thursday afternoon for participation in the state track and tennis meets. Mantsch and Hoeman qualified for the shotput and pole vault, respectively. In the district meet Saturday at Rockford and Moser, McNamera and Wieman captured the district tennis title for the Dukes recently. The tennis players are scheduled to compete in the state matches at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

BELMONT RACE TO BE TEST OF BIMLICH'S SUPERIORITY

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 13.—(AP)—Belmont and Bimelech come together naturally, and by the time "turf headquarters" winds up its 24-day spring meeting which starts this afternoon, it should be seen whether Bimelech is the super horse he looked to be after winning the Preakness Saturday or "that nag" he was after losing the Derby the week before.

There's no doubt that Col. E. R. Bradley's three-year-old is the most talked-of horse in training right now, or that Belmont is the place to determine his greatness. Beaten in the Derby by the 35-

1 outsider, Gallahadion, Bimelech came back at Pimlico to score a smashing victory in the golden jubilee Preakness before 50,000 fans. Most of them were convinced that he is by all odds the best of the three-year-old crop.

Other fans want to see him in one more real test—the rich Belmont Stakes—before they decide finally. Midland, beaten by two lengths at a mile and three sixteenths in the Preakness, and the stretch—running Gallahadion, which was third, were full of run at the finish. They might have caught up in a longer race, but Bimelech didn't appear especially tired either.

In the Belmont, which will be run June 8 over the full Derby

Knacks Tounce Amboy in League Opener

DIXON GETS HOT AFTER SIXTH TO MELT AMBOY, 11-1

Hinrichs Whiffs Fifteen As Knacks Win League Opener Yesterday

Steward	1 0 1.000
Walton	1 0 1.000

Amboy	0 1 .000

For five innings the Dixon Knacks failed to push their runners around the paths and it wasn't until the sixth that they opened up to tounce Amboy, 11 to 1, in a slugfest which marked the opening of the Illinois State League yesterday afternoon.

It was the Amboy hosts' first contest in the league and for the first half of the game they furnished worthy opposition to the defending champions. Outstanding work was displayed by Frost as catcher and Lynch at first as the Amboy club attempted to stem the tide of the Dixon runs when the dikes broke in the seventh.

Hinrichs on the mound for the Knacks gave the Dixon team great hopes for the season as he struck out 15 and allowed only four hits. Shires Miller playing in outfield for the Dixon club, made a sensational one-handed stab of Michel's fly to centerfield in the seventh and prevented Jones from cashing in on a double.

Ellis Gets 3 Doubles

Red Ellis, local first sacker, cracked the apple for three doubles and Hinrichs counted one. Jones of the Amboy team got the only other extra base hit of the afternoon.

Pretegaard and Shires Miller each singled in the first inning, but failed to progress to home plate. Ellis got his first double in the third with one out and went to third on a fielder's choice but expired when Pretegaard was out at first.

In the fourth the Knacks counted two more hits on singles by Shires Miller and Bus Carlson, but failed to progress beyond third. With two out in the fifth Michel of Amboy singled to left field but died on base when Steward fanned. Pretegaard's single for the Knacks in the same inning met about the same fate.

Knacks Score

In the first of the sixth the Knacks let loose with one run when Bus Carlson singled, went to second when Bohlen was out from catcher to first and to third on a fielder's choice. He scored on Ellis' double.

In the seventh chapter the locals bombarded the Amboy hosts with six hits and six runs. Pretegaard and S. Miller singled and Courtwright was hit by a pitched ball. Pretegaard scored on Bus Carlson's single and S. Miller and Courtwright tagged home plate on Joe Miller's single. Ellis' third double scored Bus Carlson and Joe Miller and Ellis romped home on Flanagan's double to center field.

Amboy's Only Run

The Amboy players scored their only run in the last of the seventh when Dempsey singled and scored on Jones' double. In the eighth the Knacks came back to score three more runs on four hits. Courtwright and Bus Carlson each singled and the former scored on Bohlen's drive to right field. Carlson and Bohlen were each driven in by Pitcher Hinrichs' double.

Riley singled for Amboy in the last of the eighth but failed to get beyond the first sack. Dixon scored again in the ninth when Flanagan was walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and tagged home when Courtwright was out from shortstop to first.

Next Sunday the Knacks will play their first home league game at Reynolds field when they are hosts to the Steward team which yesterday defeated Maytown, 11 to 10.

WELTER FANS 20 AS WALTON DEFEATS LEE

A tie score in the eighth inning packed the Illinois State League opener at Lee with mid-season excitement yesterday afternoon before the hometown fans saw their team nosed out, in the last chapter, 3 to 2, by Walton.

The Walton visitors scored their first run in the third inning when Welter singled and went to second on Glessner's sacrifice. The runner advanced to third on the third baseman's error and scored on McCoy's fly to left field.

In the eighth inning Walton scored again when Full reached first and second on a wild throw by the short stop, went to third on a sacrifice by McCoy and scored on a fielder's choice.

Score Is Tied

Lee came forward to knot the count in the hometown club's half of the eighth. Schnorr and C. Berg were walked and the former scored on Daniel Kennedy's single. C. Berg tagged with the tie score on a wild throw to third base.

In the first half of the ninth Walton counted the winning run when Welter doubled and advanced to third on the rightfielder's error to score on E. Bushman's fly to center field.

Welter, pitching for the winners did the sensational job of fanning 20 batters who faced him, walked only five and permitted only two hits. L. Kennedy did the chucking for the Lee club and struck out eight, walked only three and permitted only four hits in the tight ball game.

Next Sunday Lee goes to Shabbona for the second game of the season.

LOCAL KEGLERS LOSE TO MOUNT MORRIS BY 1 PIN

Dixon Recreation Team Is Spilled in Match Game Here Sunday

One measly little pin! Because that same pin was left standing on Alley 8 of the Dixon Recreation yesterday, the Mt. Morris keglers defeated the local pamen, 2505 to 2504, in a match game.

Although the Dixon Recreation crew won the first and third games, the margins were not enough to give the locals the match. Daschbach led the Dixon quartet with a 534 series and Poole with 200 in his first game and high game honors.

Blake led the Mt. Morris winners with a 566 series and counted 220 in his second game.

STEWART TRIMS MAYTOWN, 11 TO 10

Manager I. J. Strawbridge's Steward baseball team marked its season debut into the Illinois State League with a 11 to 10 victory over the Maytown visitors yesterday afternoon in a game which began with a score-heavy first inning.

The home team took a one-run advantage in the first game by scoring 6 runs to 5 by the Maytown team. Steward scored again in the fourth inning when one run and added three more in the fifth. Another run by Steward was counted in the last of the seventh after Maytown had tagged home plate twice. Steward marked up goose eggs for the remaining two chapters while Maytown's team, piloted by the Rev. Fr. U. Halmaier, made a valiant attempt to recover with three runs in the last inning.

Gargol, on the mound for Maytown, struck out ten and permitted 12 hits. Eckhardt did the hurling for the Steward winners as he fanned 12, walked only one and allowed 15 hits.

Steward, flushed with victory, will meet in the Dixon Knacks here next Sunday, a team which matched them in the number of runs for the season opens yesterday.

SPRINGFIELD BROWNIES WIN SIXTH STRAIGHT IN THREE-EYE LEAGUE GAME SUNDAY

(By The Associated Press) Maybe the St. Louis Browns aren't headed anywhere in the American League their Three Eye League cousins are doing all right by themselves.

The Springfield Brownies, St. Louis farm team, have yet to lose a game, winning their sixth straight yesterday, 22 to 6, with an 18-hit attack. Their victim was Waterloo which has lost seven straight games. Joe Grace, outfielder turned catcher, knocked out two home runs as did Clarence Springer. John Hanson also hit for the circuit, the five homers accounting for 11 runs.

Evansville and Clinton stayed within a game and a half of the leaders by winning their Sabbath games. Evansville defeated Madison, 7 to 6, and Clinton nosed out Moline, 3 to 2. Gerry Feille's eighth inning homer deciding the issue.

Decatur bested Cedar Rapids, 7 to 6, with a 13-hit attack that included four home runs. Jake Suytar hit for the circuit twice and Ted Koukalaris and Neldson once apiece. Workman hit a round tripper for the losers.

 A communique from Hitler's headquarters reported 328 allied planes were destroyed in a single day's action, yesterday, including 58 in air fights, 72 by anti-aircraft fire and the rest on the ground.
 "Our own losses," says the Hitler communique, "were slight again yesterday. They consisted of 31 planes."
 The French compilation of German losses included 34 shot down by French anti-aircraft guns, 88 by allied planes in France and Belgium, 50 destroyed on the ground in the Netherlands, and the rest shot down in Holland and Germany.
 Churchill warned x x x as before. Churchill warned that there were "many, many long months of suffering and struggle ahead," and announced Britain's war aim was to beat down "a monstrous tyranny never surpassed in the dark catalogue of human crime."
Predict "Gigantic Battle"
 Nazi officials in Berlin predicted a "gigantic battle today," and the high command announced Germany would shoot 10 allied prisoners for every Nazi parachute soldier killed in violation of international law.
 In Bern, Switzerland, neutral military attaches speculated that Germany's new secret weapon which purportedly enabled Nazi forces to capture the Belgian fort Eben Emael was a strange "nerve gas" capable of penetrating regular gas masks.
 The French high command said the Germans were attacking both Holland and Belgium with redoubled violence.
 An authoritative British source said the main German onslaught on the lowlands was developing as expected and was attempting to drive a wedge between the Belgian and Dutch armies.
 The heirs to the royal house of the Netherlands—Princess Juliana, her husband, Prince Bernhard, and their two children—arrived in London.
 The royal couple's nine-month-old daughter, Irene, arrived in a gas-proof box.
Germans Claim Successes
 The German air force claimed to have shot down more than 50 allied planes this morning in the Netherlands, while the British air ministry reported a series of "successful bombing attacks" by the R. A. F. on the Waalhaven air-drome near Rotterdam, (J5) Holland, which the Germans re-captured yesterday.
 Long lines of Belgian refugees from Liege and Namur (E6) streamed through the streets of Brussels, (F5) seeking refuge in Flanders from German bombers.
 New battle-fronts were drawn in Belgium and the Netherlands as the German invaders hammered at second-line defenses in several sectors after breaking through heavily-fortified frontier zones.

Residents of Brussels began to flee southward into France as a Nazi column, following the path blazed by the Kaiser's troops in 1914, blasted its way to a point 45 miles east of the capital.

Dutch Admit Withdrawal
 The Dutch government acknowledged that the Germans had crossed the Maas and IJssel rivers at several places, and admitted a general withdrawal in the northern provinces, which are strategically undefendable.

The German high command said that the Dutch defense line had been pierced between Amersfoort and Rhemen (K9) in central Holland, and that the spearhead of this attack was within 35 miles of Amsterdam (L6).

Britain poured 20,000 picked troops into the Netherlands' system of water defenses in an effort to stem the advance, and allied troops fought side-by-side with the Belgians.

The Germans continued to drop large numbers of parachute troops behind the lines in both the invaded countries, but it appeared that these were being mopped up almost as fast as they landed.

The Dutch claimed to be masters of the situation at Rotterdam, where the Germans landed large numbers of troops in the first few hours of the invasion last week and where heavy fighting has been surging through the streets.

Air-Raid Warnings
 There were repeated air-raid warnings in Brussels, Antwerp (H5), Amsterdam, The Hague (K5) and other heavily-populated centers but there were no reports of new bombing casualties.

In Britain, the dynamic new prime minister, Winston Churchill, hastened to complete his government by naming seven ministers to supplement his five-member "war cabinet".

Among those named was another Labor leader, Herbert Morrison, whose designation as Minister of Supply brought to three the number of Laborites holding important posts in the coalition government.

Developments in the low countries spurred the new government to a drive to step up the production of arms and munitions and to launch a drive to stamp out possible "fifth column" activities in England.

Approximately 3,000 Germans and Austrians residing in 20 English east coast counties were rounded up by Scotland Yard and hustled off to concentration camps on orders of the Home Office.

Sharp restrictions were placed on the movements of all aliens, particularly in coastal areas, and they were forbidden to appear on the streets after 8 p. m.

There were no reports of new developments in Norway, where the action remained centered around the Arctic port of Narvik, but the German high command claimed the sinking of one allied cruiser in the North sea, damage to another and the destruction of a 15,000-ton transport.

Bomb hits also were reported on three allied destroyers, and six other ships were said to have been set afire.

In Contrast

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—In Europe, bombs dropped with explosions that sent women and children shrieking toward the nearest shelters. In Washington, children marched, by the hundreds and thousands.

They stepped out, young and clean and happy, by fours and eights, with bands pumping and faces glowing, under flags that were sprinkled with stars and striped with red, while grown-ups stood on the sidewalks and clapped hands.

White uniforms with broad shoulder-bands gleamed in spite of the murky Saturday. Shoes crunched on the pavements. Drums boomed, fifes squealed. The youngsters marched briskly, faces flushed when the time-beat was missed.

Downtown, a woman on the sidewalk held her child up to watch the parade.
 "See, there's Harold," she said in his ear, and pointed.
 Along the way, a taxi driver pointed to the children and said:
 "Fine chaps, those. I watch them closer than I do policemen. They do a swell job."

Europe was being bombed. Washington was having a safety parade. The hundreds of marching children were the safety patrols who help other children to dodge automobiles on the way to school.

MAY SONG

(Ruth Dart)
Wake! The sun is ringing chimes,
Cherry blossoms, beating time,
Toss the rhythm to the skies,
Notes thin-winged as dragonflies
Swarm the air and scale the clouds—
Skies awake and sing aloud.
On and on the skies keep singing
Till the golden song is swinging
Through the hills, across the plains,
Over woods and pliant grains.
Where the low lilac tips
Lie a lad with red wet lips,
Here the sun and lily trees
The grass and hills and piping breeze,
The tumbling clouds, the robin's call,
The flowers, fields, skies and all Pour their music, pour their joy
Into one whistling boy.

Editor's Note—The foregoing poem, written by Mrs. John Stephen, who continues to use her established pen name of Ruth Dart, tells of Hazelwood and her son, Justin Dart, Jr.

Third Officer of Illinois Guard to Quit Army Service

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—The third resignation of a high ranking officer of the Illinois National Guard in the past 10 days was submitted to Governor Horner today.

Weymouth Kirkland's resignation as judge advocate of the Guard was announced Saturday night by Major Gen. Roy D. Keehn, whose own resignation, effective Wednesday, was announced last week. Keehn, the commanding officer of the Guard, said Kirkland's letter requesting his resignation had been forwarded to the governor.

Earlier last week, Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Hammond of Chicago, commander of the 66th Infantry brigade, submitted his resignation.

Kirkland, a Chicago attorney who held the rank of lieutenant colonel and as judge advocate handled legal matters for the Guard for 12 years, gave no reason for the resignation. Keehn lauded Kirkland for his service.

The vacancies created by the resignations of Keehn and Hammond have been filled. Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton of Chicago has been named by the governor to succeed Keehn, while Col. Albert L. Culbertson of Delavan was elevated to a brigadier general's rank and named as Hammond's successor. Lawton was promoted to the rank of major general.

The War Today—

through in the immediate future and achieve the objectives of their blitzkrieg may cost them the war. I don't mean that the conflict would necessarily end at once, but the end would be in sight.

Obviously the thing cuts both ways, and a great Nazi success now would leave the allies in a desperate position.

The Germans this morning would seem to have summed up their achievements rather accurately. They claim to be swarming over most of the northern half of the Netherlands, to control Luxembourg completely, and to have cut through the Belgian defenses above the heavily fortified Liege (ES) sector.

The immediate objectives of the Germans are the establishment of air (and submarine) bases on the Dutch coast, and apparently the turning of the allied left flank.

The setting up of air and submarine bases among the islands and irregular points of land which jut out from the jagged Dutch coast between the mouths of the Lek, Waal, Maas and Scheldt rivers not only would permit of a heavy onslaught on the allied blockade and commercial shipping, but the bombing of England.

I assume from the attention which the Nazi high command is paying to the Liege-Maastricht district at the junction of the Dutch-Belgian-German frontiers, that they are attempting to break through as they did in the World War and turn the left wing of the allied front.

If successful this would enable them to roll the allied army back towards the south and bring the Nazis to the Channel ports opposite England.

The much-talked-of invasion of Britain might then become a night-marish possibility. Certainly the Germans would be able to undertake to give the British the blood-bath from the air which Berlin has been talking about so much.

The Liege fortifications represent the strongest point in the Belgian "Maginot" line because, forsooth, it is the most vital. Just as this was being written the Germans issued a claim to capture of the citadel to the great Liege fortress, which played such a momentous part in holding up the first rush of the Germans at outbreak of the World War. This doesn't necessarily mean the collapse of the entire system of Liege defenses.

From the speed with which the Germans struck it is obvious that they were working from plans which had been prepared thoroughly over a long period. As in the case of Norway, Herr Hitler placed much reliance on his "fifth column," especially in Holland.

This latest display gives us a rather complete picture of the effect of Nazi organizations in foreign countries. The Nazis now have shown their hand in Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia, Danzig, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands and Belgium.

These are apart from the near revolution in Rumania at the outbreak of the war, and difficulties caused in numerous other countries by Nazi agents and Nazi parties created among citizens.

All the Nazi organizations have proved to be agents of the fatherland, ready to strike at the government of the country in which they reside if and when the fatherland gave the order.

Chief Deputy Now Supreme Court Clerk Pro Tempore

Springfield, Ill., May 13—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme court today appointed Edward F. Cullinane of Havana as temporary Supreme Court clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the death last week of Clerk Adam F. Bloch of Chicago.

Cullinane, 33, has been chief deputy clerk under Bloch for the last six years. A graduate of Notre Dame University and of the Lincoln College of Law here, he is a member of the Illinois bar.

The announcement said Cullinane's appointment would continue through the June, 1940, term of the Supreme court. It is effective immediately.

The Supreme court has statutory authority to appoint the clerk pro tempore until the vacancy is filled by special election. Governor Horner has not yet indicated when the special election will be called.

A possibility the election might be held in connection with the general election Nov. 5 has been discussed. Most attorneys expressed belief, however, that special legislation would be required to permit the major parties to select nominees in state conventions if the election is held this year.

Another possibility was that Horner would defer the special election until the regular state-wide primary and election in 1942. The term of Bloch, who died suddenly last Thursday of a heart attack, extends through 1944.

Cullinane is a nephew of the late A. D. Cullinane, who for 25 years was chairman of the Mason county Democratic organization.

POLITICS

AP Reports Gossip Among Politicians in Washington

Washington, May 13—(AP)—The campaign to re-nominate President Roosevelt swept ahead today amid mounting capital opinion that the European war spread had increased the possibility of his running again.

Many politicians in Washington have felt for months that the president's ultimate announcement of his third-term views would depend in large measure on the foreign situation.

For this reason, they are more ready than ever to believe that he will withhold a statement accepting or rejecting re-nomination until it actually has been tendered, or at least until the eve of the Democratic convention July 15.

Iowa was added Saturday night to the states whose Democratic delegations have been pledged to Roosevelt. The 22 Iowa votes will go to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace "if for any reason the president is unavailable".

On the same day, a majority of county delegates for the forthcoming Oklahoma and North Carolina state conventions were instructed to vote for a Roosevelt slate.

The president is expected to receive the support of the big Ohio delegation to be chosen in a primary tomorrow, although it will be pledged nominally to National Committeeman Charles Sawyer.

Ohio Republicans will select a delegation favoring Robert A. Taft, the state's junior senator.

Although 17 states and the District of Columbia will choose delegations to one or both party conventions this week, only two besides Ohio—West Virginia and Oregon—use the primary election method. The others are by convention.

Interest in West Virginia voting has centered on battles for the Democratic senatorial and gubernatorial nominations rather than on the presidential primary, where no major candidates are entered in either party. Ruan Holt, the youngest senator, is seeking Democratic re-nomination.

Memorial Day in Dixon to be Given Especial Import

The Dixon Memorial Association plans to make Memorial Day this year the most outstanding in many years, according to Chairman J. M. Brady.

"Residents of Dixon and vicinity as well as all Americans have reason to pause on this Memorial day and reflect what is going on in Europe, then realize the true purpose of the meaning of the day", Chairman Brady said today in stressing the importance of this year's observance. "We hope to make this year's observance in Dixon the largest that has been held in years and to this end, ask the cooperation of every citizen. The patriotic organizations have responded 100 per cent as have many other local bodies and the association is assured the appearance of many American Legion units from other localities to observe the day in Dixon".

As has been previously announced, the speaker of the day will be Attorney Miss Ruth Leydig, who will deliver the address at Oakwood cemetery following the parade. The Rev. Fr. Joseph Loneragan, former state and national chaplain of the American Legion, will come to Dixon from Menominee, to pay respects to his late friend, Charles W. "Daddy" Schick, whose death occurred in Chicago a few weeks ago.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 12.

The Golden Text was, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit" (John 3:6).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man reflects God; mankind represents the Adamic race, and is a human, not a divine, creation. In the Gospel of John, it is declared that all things were made through the Word of God, 'and without Him the logos, or word' was not anything made that was made." Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or harmful, He did not make,—hence its unreality. In the Science of Genesis we read that He saw everything which He had made, 'and, behold, it was very good'." (p. 525).

Lee county contributed 44 jobs in the sustained five weeks' drive of the National Youth Administration's second statewide job hunt which was brought to an official close with a record mark of more than 10,000 jobs for youth in Illinois four times the goal set at the outset on April 1st. The original goal was 2,500 jobs.
State NYA Administrator Mary Stuart Anderson, in making the announcement, said that word had been received in Chicago that because of the overwhelming success of the Illinois drive officials at Washington will undertake a national job hunt for young men and girls between the ages of 18 and 25 years.
"Even our most optimistic hopes were surpassed in this second job hunt," said Miss Anderson. "The most encouraging part of the drive was the fact that the high employment pace set in the beginning was maintained throughout the drive, and when we passed the 2,500 mark we went to work to set the record figure. The success in attaining more than four times our goal is not only due to the untiring efforts of our staff throughout Illinois but also to the splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of employers, newspapers, radio stations and citizens.
"Before the drive was started, we had pointed with pride to the success of the first job hunt in the fall of 1938 when we obtained 6,187 jobs for youths in a two-months' effort. When the first week's reports were received a month ago however, we were confident we could surpass the first job hunt figure. The NYA wants to thank everyone who helped us in making the employment campaign a success".
During the job hunt, youth-employer meetings and employment clinics were held in key cities throughout Illinois. NYA field representatives visited employers and youths were urged to make personal visits to offices, factories, and employment offices in a well-rounded drive to find jobs for young people.
Harry Craft, centerfielder of the Cincy Reds, gained 34 pounds over the winter after having his tonsils removed in October. The speedster of the National League champions this year feels like the same Craft who was All-Southern half-back a few years back at Mississippi College.
When it's Claude Paseseau vs. Whit Wyatt in a Cubs-Dodgers duel, the cotton belt splits wide open in its rooting. Both aces are big planters down home, the Cub curver at Lucedale, Miss., and the Brooklyn buzzer at Buchanan, Ga.

KITCHEN

Many times every day you need hot water for dish washing, cleaning, scrubbing, etc. Housework goes faster and easier when you don't have to stop and wait for water to heat.

LAUNDRY

A plentiful supply of hot water on tap speeds the laundry work. The constant, regulated temperature of an automatic water heater is mighty important too.

BATH....

Modern cleanliness standards make automatic hot water a necessity. The time lost in waiting for water to heat will more than pay for automatic hot water service.

BASEMENT SHOWER...

There's nothing like a hot shower immediately after exercise or recreation. From the health standpoint you should have hot water on tap. Waiting for water to heat causes sore muscles, brings on common colds.
